Partners

Community practice partners, program partners and sponsors participate in and sustain the PLAIT ecosystem — and what partnership is not.

Community Practice Partners

Venues, lounges, schools, churches, and community organizations that provide space for practice.

What you do

- Provide physical or relational space for practice
- Host Sessions and PLAI-Dates appropriate to your context

PLAIT provides

- The Framework and structured formats
- Stewardship guidance
- Partners retain ownership of their space

Supports: practice infrastructure and venue sustainability.

Partner spaces host Sessions and PLAI-Dates in their own contexts. Current partner: Good Game Lounge.

Program & Access Partners

Two further ways to partner: delivering programs built on the Framework, or funding access for communities that would otherwise be excluded.

Program Delivery Partner

Educators, facilitators, coaches, and organizers

What you do: design and run programs using the PLAIT Framework; facilitate cohorts, workshops, series, or classes.

PLAIT provides: program scaffolding, ethical monetization infrastructure, and alignment support.

Supports: system access and program alignment.

Access & Impact Partner

Sponsors and foundations

What you do: fund access (memberships, PLAIT Kids, devices); support communities that would otherwise be excluded.

PLAIT provides: transparent allocation and reporting, optional recognition, and separation of funding from governance.

Supports: PLAIT Kids and access initiatives.

Partners do not buy members. Partners support practice and access through alignment.

Fund access

Fund access. Reach children. Keep the work independent.

Every child deserves tools for reflection and growth, regardless of their family's circumstances. Partner funding can provide PLAIT Kids access for families who need it, fund devices for classrooms, or support programs that bring reflective practice to underserved communities.

Partners fund access and development. Funding is kept separate from governance — funding PLAIT does not carry authority over it. If PLAIT has given you something personally, you can pour something back in.

What Partnership Is Not

- No seat licensing — partnership is not a software purchase
- No software adoption programs — partners support practice and access
- No buying members — people join PLAIT on their own terms
- No governance for sale — funding is separated from decision-making

No tiers. No sales. Just alignment.

Start a conversation. How PLAIT works with partners — participation, support, and clear boundaries — is documented in the Trust Center.
